

Engaged External Consultative
Supporters (EECS)

European Cancer Organisation

This mechanism aims at creating a pathway for close engagement of stakeholders in the implementation of EU projects that ECO is coordinating by allowing external entities with relevance to the programme to join as external consultative supporters.

The organisations selected will form a diverse working group that will collaborate with the ECO Steering Committee to achieve the project's ultimate goals.

Distinctive from consultative partners within a project consortium, invited external supporters will not receive reimbursement for their input and feedback.

Pillars

Teamwork

Advocate for positive change

Facilitate engagement between stakeholders

Why create this mechanism?

- To promote information exchange and compliance among different actors
- To create avenues to influence policy and project implementation
- To avoid unconscious bias
- To facilitate synchronous interactions
- To contribute to Europe's Beating Cancer Plan

Who can join?

Organisations, institutions, cancer centres and patients' groups that address quality cancer care, cancer training and learning in Europe can take part in the EECS.

- Organisations of Health Professionals working in Cancer Care
- Cancer Centres
- Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs)
- Organisations of Researchers/Scientists in the field of cancer care or cancer treatment research
- Patients and their representatives

Process for joining

- 1- A set of carefully selected organisations (Tailored members' structure)
- 2- Organisations can apply through a registration process available on the ECO website
- 3- ECO Projects' respective governance structures will decide if the organisation is eligible to join the network

Benefits of joining

Process for joining

- Be part of an inclusive, pan-European and international group of expert individuals collaborating to improve cancer care in all countries
- Engage closely with the development and implementation of EU cancer policies and forge connections to your local cancer policy agenda
- Be a champion for European cancer cooperation and actively contribute to helping beat cancer

*Free Registration – pending admission

For more information, please contact richard.price@europeancancer.org